National Black HIV/AIDS Awareness Day

A Community Celebration of Health, Music & Connection

Join us for an engaging and energizing event in honor of Black HIV Awareness Day—bringing the community together in a fun, welcoming space to prioritize health, connection, and care.

February 6, 2026

6-9PM

Hen's Quarter Prime

2121 1st St SW, Washington, DC 20024

NO REGISTRATION REQUIRED

Free Food | Free, Confidential HIV Testing | Community Resources & Support

This event is about more than awareness—it's about coming together, celebrating culture, and creating space for honest conversations about HIV in the Black community. Whether you come for the music, the food, the resources, or the vibes, you'll leave informed, supported, and connected.
