1. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The District of Columbia Department of Health Mission Statement

The District of Columbia Department of Health (DC Health) promotes health, wellness and equity across the District and protects the safety of residents, visitors, and those doing business in the nation’s Capital.

Summary of DC Health Services

The Department of Health provides programs and services with the goal of reducing the burden of disease and improving opportunities for health and well-being for all District residents and visitors. DC Health does this through a number of strategies that center around the following priorities:

1. Promoting a Culture of Health & Wellness;
2. Addressing Social Determinants of Health;
3. Strengthening Public-Private Partnerships;
4. Closing the Chasm between Clinical Medicine and Public Health; and
5. Implementing Data Driven and Outcome Oriented Approaches to Program & Policy Development

Health Equity in the District of Columbia

Health equity is defined by the World Health Organization as the "attainment of the highest level of health for all people.” Health inequity is an economic and a social justice reality that exists in the District of Columbia. Health inequities result in lower quality of healthcare, disparate health outcomes for minority racial/ethnic populations and people with low socioeconomic status, increased direct and indirect healthcare costs, and decreased workforce productivity.

In keeping with a Health in All Policies (HiAP) approach, DC Health continues to collaborate with a wide range of partners such as hospitals, community health centers, land use/planning agencies, state and independent advisory bodies, housing agencies, transportation agencies, schools, food agencies, parks and recreation, law enforcement, and the state Medicaid agency to carry out its mission.

Commodity Supplemental Food Program in the District of Columbia

DC Health serves as the State Agency for the administration of the DC Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP) and ensures that the Program complies with all provisions of 7 CFR Part 247 and with the provisions of 7 CFR Part 250 as applicable. CSFP is a comprehensive nutrition and wellness program whose goals align with those of the Age-Friendly DC initiative (AFDC) and the 2019-2022 District of Columbia State Plan on Aging (SPOA). This State Plan reflects recommendations made in both the 2017 DC Health Systems Plan and the 2018 Health Equity Report. The State Plan aims to provide an approach focused on closing the food access gap for the aging population in the District ensuring that seniors have access to food and other services that meet their everyday needs. The three major priorities of DC CSFP are:

1. Promote health and wellness among District seniors, targeting underserved geographical areas, homeless residents, and homebound seniors
2. Implement an age-friendly food, nutrition and wellness program, in an equitable, sustainable way
3. Positively impact food security among seniors living in the District

AFDC, guided by the Age-Friendly DC 2023 Strategic Plan, promotes District-wide policies and procedures that make the District an easier place to grow older. Age-Friendly DC is focused on providing community support and health services by ensuring that the District encourages wellness and active aging through the attainment of exceptional health outcomes. The SPOA will evaluate and identify potential areas of improvement in the delivery of services for the aging population by partnering with government agencies and local wellness programming within the District. DC CSFP goals are aligned with the District’s goal to promote a stronger sense of physical, mental, and financial security among seniors as they grow older through lifelong health and security initiatives. CSFP, AFDC and SPOA initiatives include current partnerships with the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Education (SNAP-Ed), Senior Wellness Centers, and other government agencies throughout the District.

This State Plan shares DC Health priorities related to its senior population, key partnerships critical to helping residents age in place, and strategies for administering the Commodity Supplemental Food Program. The State Plan also highlights major program policies and procedures and provides details about how the program is implemented. Lastly, the State Plan includes both the Nutrition Education Plan (NEP) and the Caseload Management/Outreach Plan. The DC CSFP Operations Manual, is a supplement to this State Plan and provides details around standard operating procedures and policies. See Attachment A: DC CSFP Operations Manual.

The District of Columbia Commodity Supplemental Food Program is administered by the DC Health’s Community Health Administration (CHA), specifically the Nutrition and Physical Fitness Bureau (NPFB). Using a collective impact approach, the NPFB coordinates efforts with public and private partners to promote healthy behaviors and environments that improve health outcomes and reduce disparities in the leading causes of mortality and morbidity in the District. CHA and NPFB focus on nutrition and physical fitness promotion; cancer and chronic disease prevention and control; access to quality health care services, particularly medical and dental homes; and the health of families and individuals across the lifespan.

CHA’s approach targets behavioral, clinical, and social determinants of health through evidence-based, data-informed programs, policy, and system level interventions. The DC Commodity Supplemental Food Program State Agency (State Agency) aims to address social determinants of health through its work with partners and stakeholders to provide the full range of CSFP services.
CSFP benefits include nutritious supplemental foods, nutrition education and referrals to health care, social service, and other community providers offering services for seniors. Health behaviors, such as food choices, are often shaped by environments and policies that originate outside of the public health sector. Therefore, addressing behavior change requires significant cross-sector collaboration. CSFP participation can also provide opportunities for social interaction, important to overall health and wellness for seniors.

Key Partnerships

The Nutrition and Physical Fitness Bureau continues to rely on multi-sector collaborations with its partners in senior wellness to promote CSFP utilization and to address barriers to program participation. These partners include the DC Department of Aging and Community Living (DACL), the Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR), the Office of Planning (OP), and the University of the District of Columbia (UDC). Partners in healthcare include AmeriHealth Caritas, Unity Health Care, Community of Hope and Medical Home Comprehensive Care. Non-governmental community partners include the Capital Area Food Bank, Martha’s Table, Share Our Strength, Food and Friends, DC Central Kitchen, DC Hunger Solutions, DC Greens, the American Heart Association, and the DC Farmers’ Market Collaborative.

These partners have joined DC Health in its efforts to improve healthful food access to all residents, particularly seniors. They collaborate closely with the NPFB on its locally funded Healthy Food Access Initiatives (HFAI) including the Produce Plus Program (PPP), Produce Prescription (PRx), Healthy Corners Stores Partnerships, home delivered meals for chronically ill residents, and the Joyful Food Markets (JFM).

Produce Plus Program, funded through the District’s Budget Support Act (BSA), allows residents to purchase locally grown fresh fruits, vegetables, and herbs. The program supports local farmers who provide healthier fruit and vegetable options for DC residents. Produce Plus runs from June 1st through September 30th of each year. The Program reaches approximately 10,000 District residents, predominantly seniors, annually.

Produce Prescription (formerly known as Fruit and Vegetable Prescription FVRx), a component of the Produce Plus Program, is a partnership between Unity Health Care, Inc., Community of Hope, Medical Home Comprehensive Care, AmeriHealth Caritas, DC Greens, and DC Health. Patients enrolled in various nutrition and health programs at participating health care facilities are prescribed healthful fruits and vegetables as part of their medical intervention. Short-term benefits include improved medical appointment compliance and increased farmers’ market utilization. Long-term benefits of the program are currently being assessed.

Healthy Corners Stores Partnership is a project begun by DC Central Kitchen that supports healthful food options at the retail level. Residents are offered checks for healthful foods that are redeemed in markets that have partnered with DC Health. These markets coordinate health education sessions and food demonstrations, for participants. The Program reaches approximately 825 District residents annually.

Home Delivered Meals for the chronically ill are provided to District residents through an award made to Food and Friends. Food and Friends employs health care and food service professionals to offer a full spectrum of nutrition services including food that helps relieve the healthcare burdens associated with being chronically ill and home bound. The Program reaches approximately 500 District residents annually.
Joyful Food Markets, funded through the District’s Budget Support Act (BSA), are set up monthly at schools located in Wards 5, 7, and 8. Students receive up to 23 pounds of healthful foods along with targeted health and wellness education. JFM is noted here because of the role that seniors as grandparents play in the family setting.

2. STATEMENT OF NEED
   There are over 105,000 seniors (age 60+) in the District of Columbia. In 2014-2016, 10.4% of households with seniors in D.C. experienced food insecurity. The National Foundation to End Senior Hunger estimates that nearly one in five seniors are at risk of hunger in DC, while 15% of District residents age 60 or older (more than 15,000 individuals) live below the federal poverty level. The District’s food insecurity and poverty rates present a strong case for the need to develop and maintain a robust caseload for the DC CSFP.

   DC Health recognizes CSFP as a key component to ending senior hunger. The District commits to providing comprehensive program management while continuing to expand outreach activities in Fiscal Year 2020 and beyond.

3. ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE
   Reference: 7 CFR §247.3(a)
   Citation: CSFP is administered at the Federal level by the Department’s Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) which provides commodities, assigns caseload, and allocates administrative funds to State agencies. State agencies are responsible for administering the program at the state level. The State agency may select local agencies to administer the program in local areas of the state. The State agency must provide guidance to local agencies on all aspects of program operations. The state agency may also select subdistribution agencies to distribute or store commodities or to perform other program functions on behalf of the State agency. Local or subdistribution agencies may also elect other agencies to perform specific program functions with the state agency’s approval. Although the State agency may select other organizations to perform specific activities, the State agency is ultimately responsible for all aspects of program administration.

   DC Health is the administering agency that operates the Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP) in the District of Columbia. The Capital Area Food Bank (CAFB), a local nonprofit organization, is the Local Agency (LA) authorized to provide CSFP services on behalf of the District of Columbia. 4. PROGRAM MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION

A. State and Local Agency Responsibilities

Reference: 7 CFR §247.5

E. Nutritional Risk Criteria

Reference: 7 CFR §247.6(3)

The DC CSFP does not evaluate nutrition risk as a criterion for CSFP.

6. DISTRIBUTION SITE REQUIREMENTS

Reference: §247.10

Citation: The requirements for distributing commodities to eligible CSFP participants and the methods used to accomplish this task.

A. Distribution Site Agreements

The Local Agency (LA) is responsible for identifying convenient, accessible sites for distributing CSFP. The LA is required to enter into formal agreements that include Civil Rights training, and Justice For All compliance, and regulations related to providing services in places of religious activity with all sites prior to distribution. The LA is responsible for any loss resulting from improper distribution, or improper storage, care, or handling of commodities for all sites receiving USDA Foods.

Site agreements will be update every three years or when there has been a change in management.

B. Distribution and Use of CSFP Commodities

The contents of the monthly CSFP food package are determined based on the established USDA Foods Available List for CSFP and the guidance provided in the Maximum Monthly Distribution Rates table. All packages conform to FNS guidelines and reflect cultural and ethnic preferences of the target audience, when possible. The Local Agency is responsible for ensuring that the distribution sites distribute only one box of commodities to each participant on a monthly basis. See Attachments E and F: USDA Foods Available List (E) and CSFP Maximum Monthly Distribution Rates (F)

C. Waitlists

DC CSFP will serve up to the maximum assigned caseload. Once the assigned maximum caseload has been reached, additional applicants shall be placed on a waiting list and served first come first served. The State Agency and Local Agency use the waitlist as part of the statewide caseload management strategy.
7. PARTICIPANT CERTIFICATION

Reference: §247.8 - 247.9, 247.13, 247.15

Citation: Eligibility for CSFP participation will be determined based on Federal regulations governing the Program and upon completion of a certification form developed by the State agency and approved by Food Nutrition Service Regional Office (FNSRO).

A. Annual Certification

Currently, eligible senior citizens are certified annually in May. Based on guidelines issued in 2019, to be implemented in Fiscal Year 2020, the DC CSFP certification period will be extended to three years. Applicants shall meet all eligibility criteria at the time of certification before benefits can be issued. During certification, Local Agency staff shall inform the applicant that the CSFP applies program standards without discrimination by race, color, national origin, age, sex, or disability.

Applicants and recertifying participants are advised verbally and in writing by Local Agency staff of their rights, obligations and the fair hearings process. Participants are required to sign the application/certification form confirming that they have been advised.

The Local Agency is responsible for documenting all applications received as having been reviewed, the date reviewed and whether the applicant was approved, denied, or waitlisted. Certification periods may not exceed three years in length. The Local Agency will perform a yearly review to confirm that the participant:

1. Has an unchanged address,
2. Still wishes to take part in the program

More information can be found in the DC CSFP Operations Manual.

B. Notification of the Expiration of Certification Period

The Local Agency shall notify participants in writing at least fifteen (15) calendar days before the expiration date that eligibility for CSFP is about to expire. The notification of expiration shall include the required statement that informs the participant that CSFP applies program standards without discrimination by race, color, national origin, age, sex, or disability.

C. Certification When a Participant Moves from One CSFP Site to Another

Local Agency staff follow the verification of certification procedure when certifying participants who move from one CSFP area to another. This includes verifying that the certification has not expired (per 7 CFR 247.16(c)). Transferring participants are given the opportunity to continue to receive CSFP benefits for the duration of the certification period based on the following process:

A. The distribution site that determined the participant’s eligibility must provide verification of the expiration date of the certification period to the participant upon request.

B. If the Local Agency has a waiting list, the participant shall be placed on the distribution site waiting list ahead of all other waiting applicants.

More information can be found in the DC CSFP Operations Manual.
D. Eligibility Determination

Applicants are notified in writing of the results of the eligibility determination. If the applicant is ineligible, the notification identifies the eligibility requirement(s) that the applicant did not meet. The notification also informs the applicant of his/her right to a fair hearing to appeal the ineligibility determination. The Local Agency shall provide every ineligible applicant with referral information on how to access other local food assistance resources.

E. The Use of Proxies

CSFP participants may designate up to two proxies on their CSFP enrollment form to collect their CSFP box in their absence. The Local Agency informs all proxies that Federal regulations require that CSFP food be used by the participant only and may not be sold, traded or used by another. The use of proxies is an integral part of the DC CSFP caseload management strategy.

More information can be found in the DC CSFP Operations Manual.

F. Standards to Determine the Cost-Effectiveness of a Claim against a Participant

DC Health has established the following cost effective standard:

The pursuit of a claim against a participant to recover the value of CSFP commodities improperly received or used is cost effective when the participant has violated the policy for six months or longer (the certification period) or exceeded $300, which is the average retail value per month over a six-month period of a food package. The Local Agency is required to use this standard in determining if a claim is to be pursued and to pursue claims in accordance with 7 CFR, Part 247.30 and applicable DC Health policies and procedures.

More information can be found in the DC CSFP Operations Manual.

8. CASELOAD MANAGEMENT AND OUTREACH PLAN

Outreach, community engagement, the use of waiting lists and proxies, along with strategic partnership building form a cornerstone of DC CSFP caseload management planning. It is a way of conducting business to ensure that eligible seniors, their families, along with public and private partners are made aware of, understand, and have a working knowledge of CSFP and the benefits of participation. Intentional, results based, outreach driven data and evidence based strategies will ensure that program resources are equitable, accessible, and utilized to fully serve the annual authorized caseload.

DC Health and its Local Agency partners continue to reach out to elderly populations, primarily with the help of the DC Department of Aging and Community Living (DACL) Senior Service Network and other partner organizations in the District to educate seniors about its nutrition programs including the Commodity Supplemental Food Program.
Monthly monitoring of site participation and other performance indicators will occur in order to inform and implement approved caseload management strategies, particularly when participation falls below 98%.

A. Outreach Strategies for Home Bound Seniors
The CSFP State Agency will work with all of its partners to identify seniors that are eligible for the home delivery program. This will consist of targeting current home bound seniors in the District, maintaining active partnerships with community-based organizations, and establishing a referral network throughout the District. Local Agency partners will prioritize home bound senior CSFP delivery as part of its caseload management strategy.

See Attachment G: District of Columbia CSFP Caseload Management and Outreach Plan.

9. DUAL PARTICIPATION PREVENTION

Reference: §247.19

Citation: The State agency and local agencies are responsible for monitoring CSFP to prevent dual participation.

A. Detecting Dual Participation at Enrollment
Dual participation is strictly prohibited. The State Agency has the responsibility to monitor Local Agency efforts to prevent dual participation. The Local Agency is responsible for ensuring that all applicants and participants are aware that dual participation is prohibited and for providing written materials advising of the penalty for doing so.

The Local Agency is required to use an automated management information system(s) (MIS) to manage relevant aspects of CSFP including participation and to take appropriate action when dual participation is discovered. That action will include advising the participant of the violation and imposing the appropriate penalty.

B. Detecting Dual Participation during Distribution
The Local Agency is required to implement procedures to prevent and detect dual participation. This includes implementing standard operating procedures during food package distribution. Steps to reduce dual participation include requiring identification from the participant or proxy during every pickup and securing a signature for each package distributed.

C. Methods Used to Inform Applicants of the Illegality of Dual Participation
During the certification, re-certification and distribution processes, participants and proxies receive verbal and written notification of prohibitions on dual participation. Participants and applicants receive written notification and are verbally advised of the illegality of dual participation when they pick up CSFP food packages (boxes).

More information about dual participation can be found in the DC CSFP Operations Manual.
10. NOTIFICATION OF DISCONTINUANCE OF PARTICIPATION

Reference: §247.12, 247.17

Citation: The local agency is responsible for notifying an applicant/participant when benefits are denied or discontinued due to fraudulence, ineligibility, or lack of commodities.

When presented with evidence that a participant is no longer eligible for CSFP benefits or if there is evidence that the applicant, participant, caretaker, or proxy fraudulently applied for or received program benefits, the participant may be disqualified from the CSFP for a period of up to one year unless the Local Agency determines the disqualification would result in a serious health risk. When being notified of discontinuation, participants shall receive:

1. a written notification of discontinuance of participation
2. notification of their right to receive a fair hearing to appeal a disqualification determination

The notice shall inform the participant that program standards are applied without discrimination by race, color, national origin, age, sex, or disability.

If a participant is no longer eligible to receive CSFP commodities, the Local Agency shall provide the participant with written notification of discontinuance at least 15 calendar days before the effective date of discontinuance. The written statement shall also contain information on the participant’s right to a fair hearing to appeal this decision.

More information can be found in the DC CSFP Operations Manual.

11. NUTRITION EDUCATION PLAN

Reference: §247.18

Citation: The State agency shall create and implement a nutrition education plan in accordance with CSFP regulations. Evaluation procedures shall be established to allow participants to provide feedback as to the effectiveness of the plan.

A. Nutrition Education Plan

The CSFP Nutrition Education Plan for the District of Columbia includes delivery of evidence-based, behavior focused curricula and activities that promote healthy eating and active lifestyles. The State Agency CSFP Director is responsible for providing guidance and facilitating training needed by the Local Agency nutrition staff and other partners to deliver effective evidence-based nutrition education services to CSFP participants. The DC CSFP will use CSFP foods to conduct cooking demonstrations as part of the nutrition education provided to program participant as allowed per CFR §247.18 (b).

See Attachment H: DC CSFP Nutrition Education Plan.
12. SYSTEM FOR STORING AND DISTRIBUTING COMMODITIES

A. Receiving
USDA Foods are shipped directly to the Local Agency warehouse from the multi-food warehouse and commercial food manufacturers under USDA contract. DC Health approves all direct shipment requests submitted by the Local Agency into the Web-Based Supply Chain Management System (WBSCM) and monitors all multi-food shipment requests placed into WBSCM by the Local Agency. The Local Agency is responsible for the receipt and storage of commodities, keeping an accurate and up to date inventory of all foods, the preparation and distribution/delivery of the food packages, and maintaining food safety standards at all times. Detailed policies and procedures involving food management can be found in the DC CSFP Operations Manual.

B. Packaging
Distribution sites, under agreement with the Local Agency, assure that adequate care and security is provided for the food while in their possession. Food packages are stored in secured areas at each distribution site to safeguard from spoilage, infestation, fire and other losses.

C. Inventory Practices
It is the Local Agency responsibility to ensure that all operational procedures conform to industry standards and best practices. The State Agency is ultimately responsible for ensuring that all USDA foods are handled properly and directs the Local Agency via policies, procedures, and memoranda. Routine monitoring will be conducted and feedback provided.

D. Distribution
Each participant is provided a monthly food package at a site that is convenient for them to access. Distribution sites include senior wellness centers and residences, schools, churches and other sites offering services to seniors. The Local Agency ensures that distribution conforms to all local and federal requirements. Policies and procedures related to distribution are found in the DC CSFP Operations Manual.

E. Food Safety
CSFP food handling and distribution will conform to District of Columbia and federal food safety standards. All Local Agency food safety practices are monitored during routine monitoring visits. See DC CSFP Operations Manual for additional details.

F. Food Safety Recall Procedures
The State Agency oversees food safety recall procedures statewide and provides updates using the State Emergency Notification System (SENS). SENS is a tool that allows State Agencies to rapidly communicate critical food recall information to Recipient Agencies so they can remove contaminated food from distribution, and keep participants safe.
Procedures for Food Safety Recalls

When notified of a food recall, the Local Agency shall take, at a minimum, the following steps:

1. Gather and segregate impacted foods in a safe, locked location;
2. Label all food involved in the recall “FOOD SAFETY RECALL—DO NOT DISTRIBUTE.”
3. Notify Site Leaders and designated volunteers as soon as notification of affect product is received.
4. Consult with DC Health regarding further instructions on storage and disposal of the affected food items.

G. Out-of-Condition Foods

The Local Agency follows food handling operating procedures that include proper handling and food rotation. In the event that food becomes out of condition, the Local Agency follows federal and local procedures to move the product out of production. Out of condition foods are not distributed to CSFP participants. Policies and procedures related to out-of-condition foods can be found in the DC CSFP Operations Manual.

13. COPIES OF AGREEMENTS

Reference: 7 CFR, Part 247.6(11)
Citation: Each State agency must enter into an agreement with FNS prior to receiving funds. The state agency must enter into written agreements with local or subdistribution agencies prior to making commodities or administrative funds available to them. Copies of all agreements must be kept on file by the parties to the agreements.

A. Memorandum of Understanding Between DC Health and DACL

The Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) is the authorizing vehicle for transferring local funding from the DC Department of Aging and Community Living to the DC Department of Health. The MOU, updated annually or as determined in the MOU, is a binding agreement that details responsibilities between the two District agencies.

B. Agreement between DC Health and Local Agency

The agreement between DC Health and the Local Agency details the responsibilities of both parties and covers a maximum of five fiscal years. Any changes to the agreement affecting assurances will be submitted to USDA for review and approval.

1. INTRODUCTION
The CSFP Operations Manual (manual) is intended for participating agencies, staff, and volunteers. It is to be used as a guide to program regulations and requirements as established by the USDA and the District of Columbia. This manual provides an overview of the program, organizational structure, state and local agency responsibilities, key points of contact, program requirements and management. This manual is a supplement to the DC CSFP State Plan.

2. PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The District of Columbia Department of Health Mission Statement
The District of Columbia Department of Health (DC Health) promotes health, wellness and equity across the District and protects the safety of residents, visitors, and those doing business in the nation’s Capital.

Summary of DC Health Services
The Department of Health provides programs and services with the goal of reducing the burden of disease and improving opportunities for health and well-being for all District residents and visitors. DC Health does this through a number of strategies that center around the following priorities:

1. Promoting a Culture of Health & Wellness;
2. Addressing Social Determinants of Health;
3. Strengthening Public-Private Partnerships;
4. Closing the Chasm between Clinical Medicine and Public Health; and
5. Implementing Data Driven and Outcome Oriented Approaches to Program & Policy Development

Health Equity in the District of Columbia
Health equity is defined by the World Health Organization as the "attainment of the highest level of health for all people." Health inequity is an economic and a social justice reality that exists in the District of Columbia. Health inequities result in lower quality of healthcare, disparate health outcomes for minority racial/ethnic populations and people with low socioeconomic status, increased direct and indirect healthcare costs, and decreased workforce productivity.

In keeping with a Health in All Policies (HiAP) approach, DC Health continues to collaborate with a wide range of partners such as hospitals, community health centers, land use/planning agencies, state and independent advisory bodies, housing agencies, transportation agencies, schools, food agencies, parks and recreation, law enforcement, and the state Medicaid agency to carry out its mission.

Commodity Supplemental Food Program in the District of Columbia
DC Health serves as the State Agency for the administration of the DC Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP) and ensures that the Program complies with all provisions of 7 CFR Part 247 and with the provisions of 7 CFR Part 250 as applicable. CSFP is a comprehensive nutrition and wellness program whose goals align with those of the Age-Friendly DC Initiative (AFDC) and the 2019-2022 District of Columbia State Plan on Aging (SPOA). This Operations Manual reflects recommendations made in the 2017 DC Health Systems Plan, the 2018 Health Equity Report, and the State Plan. The State Plan aims to provide an approach focused on closing the food access gap for the aging population in the District ensuring that seniors have access to food and other services that meet their everyday needs. The three major priorities of DC CSFP are:

1. Promote health and wellness among District seniors, targeting underserved geographical areas, homeless residents, and homebound seniors
2. Implement an age-friendly food, nutrition and wellness program, in an equitable, sustainable way
3. Positively impact food security among seniors living in the District

AFDC, guided by the Age-Friendly DC 2023 Strategic Plan, promotes District-wide policies and procedures that make the District an easier place to grow older. Age-Friendly DC is focused on providing community support and health services by ensuring that the District encourages wellness and active aging through the attainment of exceptional health outcomes. The SPOA will evaluate and identify potential areas of improvement in the delivery of services for the aging population by partnering with government agencies and local wellness programming within the District. DC CSFP goals are aligned with the District’s goal to promote a stronger sense of physical, mental, and financial security among seniors as they grow older through lifelong health and security initiatives. CSFP, AFDC and SPOA initiatives include current partnerships with the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Education (SNAP-Ed), Senior Wellness Centers, and other government agencies throughout the District.

This Operations Manual shares DC Health priorities related to its senior population, key partnerships critical to helping residents age in place, and strategies for administering the Commodity Supplemental Food Program. The Operations Manual also highlights major program policies and procedures and provides details about how the program is implemented. Lastly, the Operations Manual includes both the Nutrition Education Plan (NEP) and the Caseload Management/Outreach Plan.

The District of Columbia Commodity Supplemental Food Program is administered by the DC Health’s Community Health Administration (CHA), specifically the Nutrition and Physical Fitness Bureau (NPFB). Using a collective impact approach, the NPFB coordinates efforts with public and private partners to promote healthy behaviors and environments that improve health outcomes and reduce disparities in the leading causes of mortality and morbidity in the District. CHA and NPFB focus on nutrition and physical fitness promotion; cancer and chronic disease prevention and control; access to quality health care services, particularly medical and dental homes; and the health of families and individuals across the lifespan.

CHA’s approach targets behavioral, clinical, and social determinants of health through evidence-based, data-informed programs, policy, and system level interventions. The DC Commodity Supplemental Food Program State Agency (State Agency) aims to address social determinants of health through its work with partners and stakeholders to provide the full range of CSFP services.
CSFP benefits include nutritious supplemental foods, nutrition education and referrals to health care, social service, and other community providers offering services for seniors. Health behaviors, such as food choices, are often shaped by environments and policies that originate outside of the public health sector. Therefore, addressing behavior change requires significant cross-sector collaboration. CSFP participation can also provide opportunities for social interaction, important to overall health and wellness for seniors.

Key Partnerships

The Nutrition and Physical Fitness Bureau continues to rely on multi-sector collaborations with its partners in senior wellness to promote CSFP utilization and to address barriers to program participation. These partners include the DC Department of Aging and Community Living (DACL), the Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR), the Office of Planning (OP), and the University of the District of Columbia (UDC). Partners in healthcare include AmeriHealth Caritas, Unity Health Care, Community of Hope and Medical Home Comprehensive Care. Non-governmental community partners include the Capital Area Food Bank, Martha’s Table, Share Our Strength, Food and Friends, DC Central Kitchen, DC Hunger Solutions, DC Greens, the American Heart Association, and the DC Farmers’ Market Collaborative.

These partners have joined DC Health in its efforts to improve healthful food access to all residents, particularly seniors. They collaborate closely with the NPFB on its locally funded Healthy Food Access Initiatives (HFAI) including the Produce Plus Program (PPP), Produce Prescription (PRx), Healthy Corners Stores Partnerships, home delivered meals for chronically ill residents, and the Joyful Food Markets (JFM).

Produce Plus Program, funded through the District’s Budget Support Act (BSA), allows residents to purchase locally grown fresh fruits, vegetables, and herbs. The program supports local farmers who provide healthier fruit and vegetable options for DC residents. Produce Plus runs from June 1st through September 30th of each year. The Program reaches approximately 10,000 District residents, predominantly seniors, annually.

Produce Prescription (formerly known as Fruit and Vegetable Prescription FVRx), a component of the Produce Plus Program, is a partnership between Unity Health Care, Inc., Community of Hope, Medical Home Comprehensive Care, AmeriHealth Caritas, DC Greens, and DC Health. Patients enrolled in various nutrition and health programs at participating health care facilities are prescribed healthful fruits and vegetables as part of their medical intervention. Short-term benefits include improved medical appointment compliance and increased farmers’ market utilization. Long-term benefits of the program are currently being assessed.

Healthy Corners Stores Partnership is a project begun by DC Central Kitchen that supports healthful food options at the retail level. Residents are offered checks for healthful foods that are redeemed in markets that have partnered with DC Health. These markets coordinate health education sessions and food demonstrations, for participants. The Program reaches approximately 825 District residents annually.

Home Delivered Meals for the chronically ill are provided to District residents through an award made to Food and Friends. Food and Friends employs health care and food service professionals to offer a full spectrum of nutrition services including food that helps relieve the healthcare burdens associated with being chronically ill and home bound. The Program reaches approximately 500 District residents annually.
Joyful Food Markets, funded through the District’s Budget Support Act (BSA), are set up monthly at schools located in Wards 5, 7, and 8. Students receive up to 23 pounds of healthful foods along with targeted health and wellness education. JFM is noted here because of the role that seniors as grandparents play in the family setting.

B. Notification of the Expiration of Certification Period
The Local Agency shall notify participants in writing at least fifteen (15) calendar days before the expiration date that eligibility for CSFP is about to expire. The notification of expiration shall include the required statement that informs the participant that CSFP applies program standards without discrimination by race, color, national origin, age, sex, or disability. Additionally, the notification will advise of steps that the senior can take to recertify.

C. Certification When a Participant Moves from One CSFP Site to Another
Local Agency staff follow the verification of certification procedure when certifying participants who move from one CSFP area to another. This includes verifying that the certification has not expired (per 7 CFR 247.16(c)). In the instance that the participant is moving in state, the Local Agency team will follow protocols that involve transferring information from one site to another. In the instance that the participant is moving out of state or is moving in state from another jurisdiction, the Local Agency will make every effort to contact the jurisdiction and verify the certification and secure the required information.

Transferring participants are given the opportunity to continue to receive CSFP benefits for the duration of the certification period based on the following process:

A. The distribution site that determined the participant's eligibility must provide verification of the expiration date of the certification period to the participant upon request.

B. If the Local Agency has a waiting list, the participant shall be placed on the distribution site waiting list ahead of all other waiting applicants.

D. Eligibility Determination
CSFP staff shall notify applicants in writing of the results of the eligibility determination within ten (10) calendar days from the receipt of their application by the Local Agency. If the applicant is eligible, and the application is received close to the site’s next distribution date, staff are permitted to notify the participant via phone call, email or text.

If the applicant is ineligible, the notification shall identify the eligibility requirement(s) that the applicant did not meet. The notification also informs the applicant of his/her right to a fair hearing to appeal the ineligibility determination. The Local Agency shall provide every ineligible applicant with referral information on how to access other local food assistance resources.
E. The Use of Proxies

CSFP participants may designate up to two proxies on their CSFP enrollment form to collect their CSFP box in their absence. Each proxy’s name shall appear on the monthly roster next to the participant’s name indicating that they may collect the CSFP box. Proxies shall give the name of the participants they are picking up the CSFP box for, and provide a valid photo ID. If a participant did not designate a proxy on their enrollment form, a temporary proxy may collect the CSFP box if the proxy provides their valid photo ID and the valid photo ID of the CSFP participant. A participant may change or update their designated proxy by speaking with a CSFP staff member, who shall document the change in proxy.

CSFP staff shall inform all proxies that Federal regulations require that CSFP food be used by the participant only and may not be sold, traded or used by another.

F. Standards to Determine the Cost-Effectiveness of a Claim against a Participant

The State Agency has established the following cost effective standard:

The pursuit of a claim against a participant to recover the value of CSFP commodities improperly received or used is cost effective when the participant has violated the policy for six months or longer (the certification period) or exceeded $300, which is the average retail value per month over a six-month period of a food package. The Local Agency is required to use this standard in determining if a claim is to be pursued and to pursue claims in accordance with 7 CFR, Part 247.30 and applicable State Agency policies and procedures.

The dollar amount not to be exceeded will be evaluated once every three years.

8. CASELOAD MANAGEMENT AND OUTREACH PLAN

Reference: §247.6 (c)(5)
Citation: Develop and implement a process by which the State and local agencies partner with organizations within the community to educate the targeted population about the CSFP.

Outreach, community engagement, the use of waiting lists and proxies, along with strategic partnership building form a cornerstone of DC CSFP caseload management planning. It is a way of conducting business to ensure that eligible seniors, their families, along with public and private partners are made aware of, understand, and have a working knowledge of CSFP and the benefits of participation. Intentional, results based, outreach driven data and evidence based strategies will ensure that program resources are equitable, accessible, and utilized to fully serve the annual authorized caseload.

The State Agency and Local Agency partners continue to elderly populations primarily with the help of the DC Department of Aging and Community Living (DACL) Senior Service Network and other partner organizations in the District to educate seniors about its nutrition programs including the Commodity Supplemental Food Program.

Monthly monitoring of site participation and other performance indicators will occur in order to inform and implement approved caseload management strategies, particularly when participation falls below 98%. The State Agency will solicit and evaluate annual feedback to evaluate CSFP menu, hours of operation, distribution location, and customer service.
A. Outreach Strategies for Home Bound Seniors
The CSFP State Agency will work with all of its partners to identify seniors that are eligible for the home delivery program. This will consist of targeting current home bound seniors in the District, maintaining active partnerships with community-based organizations, and establishing a referral network throughout the District. Local Agency partners will prioritize home bound senior CSFP delivery as part of its caseload management strategy.

See Attachment F: District of Columbia CSFP Caseload Management and Outreach Plan.

9. DUAL PARTICIPATION PREVENTION

A. Detecting Dual Participation at Enrollment
Dual participation is strictly prohibited. The State Agency has the responsibility to monitor Local Agency efforts to prevent dual participation. The Local Agency is responsible for ensuring that all applicants and participants are aware that dual participation is prohibited and for providing written materials advising of the penalty for doing so.

The Local Agency is required to use an automated management information system(s) (MIS) to manage relevant aspects of CSFP including participation and to take appropriate action when dual participation is discovered. That action will include advising the participant of the violation and imposing the appropriate penalty.

The Local Agency will review its participant records on a quarterly basis and provide a report to the State Agency of its findings related to dual participation and any action taken.

B. Detecting Dual Participation during Distribution
The Local Agency is required to implement procedures to prevent and detect dual participation. This includes implementing standard operating procedures during food package distribution. Steps to reduce dual participation include requiring identification from the participant or proxy during every pickup and securing a signature for each package distributed.

CSFP staff shall advise participants at all distribution events that they may not receive more than one CSFP food package (box) per month and may not register at more than one distribution site.

C. Methods Used to Inform Applicants of the Illegality of Dual Participation
During the certification, re-certification and distribution processes, participants and proxies receive verbal and written notification of prohibitions on dual participation. Participants and applicants receive written notification and are verbally advised of the illegality of dual participation when they pick up CSFP food packages (boxes).
10. NOTIFICATION OF DISCONTINUANCE OF PARTICIPATION

Reference: §247.12, 247.17

Citation: The local agency is responsible for notifying an applicant/participant when benefits are denied or discontinued due to fraudulence, ineligibility, or lack of commodities.

When presented with evidence that a participant is no longer eligible for CSFP benefits or if there is evidence that the applicant, participant, caretaker, or proxy fraudulently applied for or received program benefits, the participant may be disqualified from the CSFP for a period of up to one year unless the Local Agency determines the disqualification would result in a serious health risk. When being notified of discontinuation, participants shall receive:

1. a written notification of discontinuance of participation
2. notification of their right to receive a fair hearing to appeal a disqualification determination

The notice shall inform the participant that program standards are applied without discrimination by race, color, national origin, age, sex, or disability.

If a participant is no longer eligible to receive CSFP commodities, the Local Agency shall provide the participant with written notification of discontinuance at least 15 calendar days before the effective date of discontinuance. The written statement shall also contain information on the participant’s right to a fair hearing to appeal this decision.

The Local Agency will review its participant records on a quarterly basis and provide a report to the State Agency listing all participants served with a notification of discontinuance of participation.

11. PARTICIPANT RIGHTS & RESPONSIBILITIES

A. USDA Participants Rights and Responsibilities

Each individual who completes a CSFP application shall receive a document that details, at a minimum, the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) Participant’s Rights and Responsibilities, CSFP program rules, and information regarding current waitlists and fair hearings. Site leaders shall provide this information orally if needed or requested.

Participants are to be advised that:

1. Federal regulations require that CSFP foods be used by the participant only and may not be sold, traded or used by another person.
2. Participants cannot receive more than one box each month. They also cannot sell commodities or exchange them for other food. Doing so could result in disqualification from the program or a claim brought against him/her for the cost of the products.
3. Participants shall report changes to household size and/or income within 10 calendar days of the change occurring.
4. Participants shall enroll in the CSFP by completing an application, and verifying continued interest in the program every year. Participants are required to recertify.
every three years. Failing to complete an application or to recertify is cause for removal from the program.
5. Participants shall present a valid ID and sign the roster each month when picking-up CSFP benefits.
6. Participants may be removed from the CSFP for threatening or engaging in verbal or physical abuse.

Additional responsibilities for CSFP staff:
7. CSFP staff shall notify applicants in writing if CSFP determines that an applicant is ineligible, and when an applicant is terminated from the program. If this happens, applicants are advised in writing that they have the right to appeal this decision and request a fair hearing.
8. CSFP staff provides written nutrition education materials every month along with referral information about additional community resources.

B. Fair Hearings
Reference: §247.33
Citation: A process by which CSFP applicants/participants can appeal an adverse action which results in the denial or loss of benefits.

Individuals seeking continued benefits may request a fair hearing within 60 calendar days of the date of the notice of termination. Any participant denied benefits at recertification time or found ineligible during the recertification period and who requests a fair hearing within 15 calendar days of notice of termination shall continue to receive benefits until a hearing official reaches a decision or the certification period expires, whichever comes first. An applicant who is denied benefits at the time of certification shall not receive benefits before a hearing official makes a determination.

Conduct for the fair hearing, including all notifications is the responsibility of the Local Agency. The Local Agency shall establish clear, simple rules and procedures regarding the fair hearings process. The Local Agency shall notify CSFP participants/applicants of denial of benefits in writing. The letter shall outline information needed for a fair hearing and define the rights and responsibilities of all parties involved. All fair hearings shall be conducted by an impartial official who does not have any personal stake or involvement in the decision and who was not directly involved with the initial determination.

The Hearing Officer shall:

1. Ensure that hearings are scheduled within three weeks of the date the initial request is received in the district office;
2. Provide written notice of the place and time of the hearing at least 10 calendar days before the hearing date and include the rules of procedure for the hearing;
3. Ensure all relevant issues are considered;
4. Administer oaths of affirmations as required by the State;
5. Request and receive all evidence determined necessary for the hearing;
6. Regulate the conduct and course of the hearing consistent with due process;
7. Order, where relevant and necessary, an independent medical assessment or professional evaluation from a source mutually satisfactory to the appellant and OMB;
8. Render a decision which shall resolve the dispute within 45 calendar days of the initial request for a hearing.
9. Once a decision has been reached, written notification shall be sent to the individual explaining the reasons for the decision. If the Hearing Officer rules in favor of the participant, then benefits shall continue as scheduled. If the hearing decision is in favor of an applicant who was denied benefits, receipt of commodities shall begin within 45 calendar days from the date that the hearing was requested as long as the applicant is still eligible. If the hearing decision is against the participant, benefits shall be discontinued immediately and not later than the next scheduled distribution date.

A request for a fair hearing may be denied for the following reasons:
1. The request is not received within 60 calendars days from the date the Local Agency office mails or gives the participant/applicant the notice of adverse action;
2. The request is withdrawn by the appellant or representative in writing;
3. The appellant fails to appear at the hearing without good cause.

C. Standards to Determine the Cost-Effectiveness of a Claim Against a Participant
The State Agency has established the following cost effective standard:

The pursuit of a claim against a participant to recover the value of CSFP commodities improperly received or used is cost effective when the participant has violated policy for six months or longer (the certification period) or exceeded $300, which is the average retail value per month over a six-month period of a food package (box). The Local Agency is required to use this standard in determining if a claim is to be pursued and to pursue claims in accordance with 7 CFR, Part 247.30 and applicable State Agency policies and procedures.
The Local Agency will review records related to claims against participant provide a report to the State Agency noting any action taken.

12. CASE LOAD JUSTIFICATION INCREASE
Reference: §247.6(c)(4)

The District of Columbia Department of Health submits its request for a caseload increase based on need. Requests will include a needs assessment, a case management and outreach plan update, and performance on key indicators.

The State Agency and the Local Agency work together to implement program changes and enhancements to increase participation by:
1. Using data informed and evidence based strategies;
2. Performing direct outreach activities at distribution sites with declining participant loads;
3. Leveraging the waiting list and proxy policies to accommodate participant demand; and
4. Integrating the program into existing, recognized community hubs including parks and recreation centers, senior wellness centers and senior congregate meal locations.

Annually, the State Agency shall at a minimum:

1. Review the LA caseload management achievements
2. Conduct site visits at Local Agency certification and distribution sites to provide program oversight;
3. Monitor assigned caseloads and participant retention rate on a monthly basis; and
4. Assist the Local Agency with implementing the DC CSFP Caseload Management and Outreach Plan.

See the Caseload Management and Outreach plan for more details.

13. NUTRITION EDUCATION PLAN

Reference: §247.18
Citation: The State agency shall create and implement a nutrition education plan in accordance with CSFP regulations. Evaluation procedures shall be established to allow participants to provide feedback as to the effectiveness of the plan.

A. Nutrition Education Definition

Nutrition Education is any combination of educational strategies, accompanied by environmental supports, designed to facilitate voluntary adoption of food choices and other food and nutrition related behaviors conducive to health and well-being. Nutrition education is delivered through multiple venues and involves activities at the individual, community, and policy levels. CSFP nutrition education should be culturally sensitive and delivered by qualified nutrition educators.

B. Nutrition Education Plan

The CSFP Nutrition Education Plan for the District of Columbia includes delivery of evidence-based, behavior focused curricula and activities that promote healthy eating and active lifestyles. CSFP participants will take part in individual and group based direct education targeted to their specific ethnic and cultural characteristics. Nutrition education will be delivered by competent staff and volunteers from the Local Agency, the DC SNAP-Ed Program, and other providers. The State Agency CSFP Director is responsible for providing guidance and facilitating training needed by Local Agency nutrition staff to deliver effective evidence-based nutrition education services to CSFP participants and will coordinate with DC Health nutrition educators.

Group education classes will be supported with complementary educational tools including SNAP-Ed approved handouts and recipes that feature key health messages based on the Dietary Guidelines for Americans and targeted to the senior population.

See Attachment H: DC CSFP Nutrition Education Plan
14. SYSTEM FOR STORING AND DISTRIBUTING COMMODITIES

Reference: §247.6(c)(6); §250.12; and §250.14;

A. Receiving

USDA Foods are shipped directly to the Local Agency warehouse from the multi-food warehouse and commercial food manufacturers under USDA contract. The State Agency approves all direct shipment requests submitted by the Local Agency into the Web-Based Supply Chain Management System (WBSCM) and monitors all multi-food shipment requests placed into WBSCM by the Local Agency. The Local Agency is responsible for the receipt and storage of commodities, keeping an accurate and up to date inventory of all foods, the preparation and distribution/delivery of the food packages, and maintaining food safety standards at all times.

The Local Agency inventories USDA Foods received, and compares shipments received to the Bill of Landing. Differences in the product count or products listed are edited on the Bill of Landing and certified with a signature on the Bill of Landing. Staff enter inventory data into the Local Agency inventory management information system and the product is assigned a barcode that corresponds to its storage place in the Local Agency Distribution Center. Staff document noticeable damage to the container when products are received. For reporting purposes, products are calculated out to the unit dependent on their packaging within a case.

B. Packaging

Distribution sites, under agreement with the Local Agency, assure that adequate care and security is provided for the food while in their possession. Food packages are stored in secured areas at each distribution site to safeguard from spoilage, infestation, fire and other losses. These storage areas may also be used to store the Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP).

Staff pull inventory monthly to pack CSFP food packages (boxes). During pulling procedures, precautions are taken to prevent damage to the product. In the event damage occurs, damaged products are properly noted and reported to the State Agency. In addition, notations are made in the inventory list.

Staff cross check inventory during packing. Staff subtract the packed inventory from the original inventory verified at the beginning of the month. After food packages (boxes) are packed, the remaining inventory is counted and recorded. At this time, the total number of food packages and damaged products are counted and recorded. Staff cross-check these numbers with the original inventory pulled for the day. Any discrepancies result in a recount and investigation of numbers that do not match. Staff enter reconciled records into a management information system.

C. Inventory Practices

It is the Local Agency responsibility to ensure that all operational procedures conform to industry standards and best practices. The State Agency is ultimately responsible for ensuring that all USDA foods are handled properly and directs the Local Agency via policies, procedures, and memoranda. Routine monitoring will be conducted and feedback provided.

Local Agency’s CSFP Operations Manager and Inventory Coordinator perform random cycle counts after each packing session, and a full inventory count occurs at the end of each month. During the warehouse inventory, every commodity is counted by its case and properly calculated out to its unit number. Damaged items are counted and set aside and reported to the State Agency. Staff compare inventory with previous records and inventory for the prior month.

Staff take a complete inventory of CSFP products in the Distribution Center after pulling inventory for packing sessions. Staff compare physical counts with electronic records. Staff resolve all inventory discrepancies through recounting and investigation. Staff document justifications for adjustment in the inventories on the inventory records.

Local Agency staff maintain accurate and complete records on site for three years from the close of the fiscal year to which they pertain, or longer if the records are related to unresolved claims, actions, audits, or investigations.

D. Distribution
Each participant is provided a monthly food package at a site that is convenient for them to access. Distribution sites include senior wellness centers and residences, schools, churches and other sites offering services to seniors. The Local Agency ensures that distribution conforms to all local and federal requirements.

The Local Agency will provide monthly reports to the State Agency detailing at a minimum, the following related to distribution:

A. List of food items in the monthly package,
B. Distribution location and dates,
C. Any changes in distribution deliveries, dates, and distribution times, and
D. Any new distribution sites

E. Food Safety
The CSFP staff and distribution sites conform to District of Columbia and federal health standards. CSFP staff comply with the following general rules regarding food safety:

1. Staff use the first-in-first-out (FIFO) system of inventory management.
2. Staff adhere to the manufacturer’s “expiration” or “use-by” dates, along with FIFO, in management of food inventories.
3. Staff mark donated food cases and containers with the date of their receipt at the storage facility.
4. USDA donated foods that show signs of spoilage, infestation, or other visible defects are not used or distributed, regardless of product dates or when the foods were received.
5. If there are no visible defects, but there is a question as to the wholesomeness or safety of USDA donated foods, CSFP staff have the foods inspected by District of Columbia health officials as soon as possible and contact FNS before taking further action.
6. USDA donated foods are subject to the same safeguards and effective management practices as other foods and shall be treated as other foods when safety is in question.

The Local Agency will provide monthly food safety reports to the State Agency.

F. Food Safety Recall Procedures

The State Agency oversees food safety recall procedures statewide and provides updates using the State Emergency Notification System (SENS). SENS is a tool that allows State Agencies to rapidly communicate critical food recall information to Recipient Agencies so they can remove contaminated food from distribution, and keep participants safe.

Definition of a Food Recall

A food recall is a voluntary action by a manufacturer or distributor to protect the public from products that may cause health problems or possible death. A recall is intended to remove food products from commerce when there is reason to believe the products may be adulterated or misbranded. Recalls are initiated by the manufacturer or distributor of the meat or poultry sometimes at the request of the Food Safety and Inspection Service (FSIS).

Notification of Food Safety Recalls

FSIS notifies the public through a Recall Release for Class I and Class II recalls, and issues a Recall Notification Report (RNR) for Class III recall issues. Both Recall Releases and RNRs are posted on the FSIS Website and distributed to FSIS email subscribers. When possible, FSIS also includes pictures of the recalled product labels as part of the FSIS online Recall Release posting.

For every Class I recall, FSIS develops a list of retail consignees that have, or have had, the recalled products in their possession. The list of retail consignees is posted within three (3) calendar days of the date of the recall and includes the name, street address, city, and state of each retail consignee. The retail consignee list is updated periodically as additional retail consignee information becomes available.

When available, FSIS posts recall press releases and RNRs on the FSIS Recalls area of the Web site, at www.fsis.usda.gov/Fsis_Recalls/Open_Federal_Cases/index.asp. FSIS’ newsletters, including Constituent Update, are also available via email subscription. The State Agency and Local Agency CAFB are required to subscribe to this electronic notification.

The Local Agency is required to request to receive FSIS press releases and recall announcements by subscribing to the FSIS website at www.fsis.usda.gov/News_&_Events/Newsletters/index.asp.
Procedures for Food Safety Recalls

When notified of a food recall, the Local Agency shall take the following steps:

1. Notify the State Agency, and FNS in writing of the food recall;
2. Gather and segregate impacted foods in a safe, locked location;
3. Label all food involved in the recall “FOOD SAFETY RECALL—DO NOT DISTRIBUTE.”
4. Notify Site Leaders and designated volunteers as soon as notification of affect product is received.
5. Site Leaders shall be instructed to remove the specific items on recall from each CSFP box and segregate it to a safe, locked location
6. Site Leaders shall also be notified of a date and time when the segregated product shall be collected by the CSFP Delivery Team.
7. Upon pick-up of product, Site Leaders shall confirm with the driver the amount of affected product that is being returned to the Local Agency for redirection, disposal or recondition.
8. Consult with DC Health regarding further instructions on storage and disposal of the affected food items.

G. Out-of-Condition Foods

The Local Agency follows food handling operating procedures that include proper handling and food rotation. In the event that food becomes out of condition, the Local Agency follows federal and local procedures to move the product out of production. Out of condition foods are not distributed to CSFP participants.

CSFP staff shall report out-of-condition donated foods at storage agencies to the State Agency. CSFP staff shall remove the food, destroy or otherwise dispose of the food, in accordance with FNS guidance and District of Columbia requirements about food safety and health.

The Local Agency will report monthly on out-of-condition foods.

10. COPIES OF AGREEMENTS

Reference: 7 CFR, Part 247.6(11)
Citation: Each State agency must enter into an agreement with FNS prior to receiving funds. The state agency must enter into written agreements with local or subdistribution agencies prior to making commodities or administrative funds available to them. Copies of all agreements must be kept on file by the parties to the agreements.

A. Memorandum of Understanding Between DC Health and DACL

The Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) shall be the authorizing vehicle for transferring local funding from the DC Department of Aging and Community Living to the DC Department of Health. The MOU, updated annually or as determined in the MOU, is a binding agreement that details responsibilities between the two District agencies.

Attachment H: Memorandum of Understanding Between DC Health and DACL
B. Agreement between DC Health and Local Agency

The agreement between DC Health and the Local Agency details the responsibilities of both parties and covers a maximum of five fiscal years. Any changes to the agreement affecting assurances will be submitted to USDA for review and approval.

Attachment I: Agreement Between DC Health and the Local Agency(ies)

11. PROGRAMMATIC ASSURANCES

Reference: 7 CFR 247.34(a), 7 CFR 247.34(b), 7 CFR 250.12(b)

A. Management Reviews

DC Health shall perform an on-site review of all local agencies and storage facilities at least once every two years. As part of the on-site review, the State Agency shall evaluate all aspects of program administration, including:

1. Certification Procedures,
2. Nutrition Education,
3. Civil Rights Compliance,
4. Food Storage Practices,
5. Inventory Controls, and
6. Financial Management Systems

In addition to conducting on-site reviews, the State Agency shall evaluate program administration by reviewing on the following basis:

1. Financial Reports – quarterly at a minimum,
2. Audit Reports – annually minimum,
3. Food Orders – monthly at minimum
4. Inventory Reports – quarterly at a minimum and
5. Other Relevant Information (frequency to be determined by the report)

DC Health requires the Local Agency to monitor distribution sites and their storage facilities at least once per year and document all monitoring visits and reports. All monitoring visits shall be completed by August 1st of each year.

*CSFP State agencies must implement the adjusted income guidelines for elderly applicants immediately upon receipt. For children who were certified and enrolled as of February 6, 2014, each CSFP State agency must implement the adjusted guidelines at the same time that the WIC State agency implements the adjusted guidelines in WIC.

District of Columbia
Commodity Supplemental Food Program
Caseload Management and Outreach Plan
Executive Summary

The DC CSFP State Agency (SA) is committed to improving participation in the Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP). CSFP is a cornerstone of senior nutrition programs in the District. While 2019 enrollment holds steady at 5,411, data suggests that there are more than 15,000 seniors who are eligible. This Caseload Management and Outreach Plan provides a high level overview of the DC CSFP strategy to meet authorized participation levels and to build strategic partnerships. For more detailed information about DC CSFP, please refer to the DC CSFP State Plan (State Plan).

The priorities of caseload management and outreach are to ensure maximum program reach and participation, strengthening public and private partnerships, and using data to inform decision making around improving access and utilization of CSFP.

Outreach and community engagement form a cornerstone of DC CSFP caseload management planning. It is a way of conducting business to ensure that eligible seniors, their families, along with public and private partners are made aware of, understand, and have a working knowledge of CSFP. Intentional, effective outreach ensures that program services are equitable and accessible to all eligible residents. Successful outreach efforts can lead to increased CSFP utilization.

DC Health provides oversight to the LA pertaining to CSFP outreach and community engagement to assure equity and accessibility by all seniors. Intentional, effective outreach involves:

A. Understanding the target audience, including DC specific demographics and challenges faced in accessing services.
B. Developing partnerships and working relationships with seniors, their families, caregivers and partners.
C. Earning the trust and acceptance of the seniors their families, caregivers and partners.
D. Using communication techniques which are most appropriate for seniors, their families, caregivers and partners.

Plan Description

Providing CSFP Services at the Maximum Authorized Participation Level

This Caseload Management and Outreach plan, along with the CSFP State Plan provides a framework for meeting authorized caseload ≥98% on a monthly basis. This will be accomplished by utilizing existing tools, cultivating new and existing partnerships, and implementing a data informed approach to program management. Existing tools include setting minimum standards for application of the waiting list and proxy procedures.

Strengthening Public and Private Partnerships

Cultivation of and existing partnerships begins with the Local Agency and expands to include distribution sites and anti-hunger and age-friendly advocates. Opportunities for new partnerships center around accessing program providers targeting the homebound, homeless and veteran population. The framework below describes the strategic priority, related objective and performance indicators for coordinating with partners around outreach messaging, advocacy convening, warm handoff referrals to seniors and their families receiving services from government agencies and community partners inclusive of those noted below. All of these entities have a vested interest in improving senior wellness as we collectively work to make the District an Age Friendly city.
A. DC Department of Human Services – SNAP
B. DC Department of Healthcare Finance – Medicaid
C. DC Department of Aging and Community Living – SeniorNetwork
D. DC Housing Authority
E. DC Parks and Recreation Home Delivered Meal Programs (those targeting those homebound due to chronic illness vs. those offered by DC Office on Aging)
F. Healthy Corners Stores Partnerships

A more exhaustive list of community partners can be found in the State Plan.

Using Data to Inform Decision Making

During the FY 2019 October recertification, CAFB completed the process inclusive of approximately 400 wait listed seniors. This number is twice the number from FY 2018. Even with a wait list representing more than 7% of the authorized caseload, DC CSFP utilization averages only 95%.

A brief review of the certification documents from previous fiscal years showed that approximately 30% of participants did not have proxies. Increasing the number of wait listed seniors as well as the number who not only have, but use proxies, is part of ongoing caseload management strategy.

Other factors that will inform the caseload management process includes data gleaned from participant surveys. Our data tells us a greater number of DC seniors access the internet via computer or smart phone than previously thought. Seniors are using cellphones to send and receive messages (email and text) and DC CSFP will collaborate with other DC Health nutrition programs that are successfully using text messaging and other strategies to provide appointment reminders and health and wellness information.

Evaluation

Evaluation of the Caseload Management and Outreach Plan will be ongoing and involve process and outcome measurements. Data gleaned from the evaluation process will be used to improve services, strengthen partnerships, and promote the DC CSFP across the District.

District of Columbia CSFP

Nutrition Education Plan

Executive Summary

The Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP) is a nutrition program funded by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA). CSFP works to improve the health of low-income elderly persons aged 60 and older by supplementing their diets with nutritious USDA Foods, providing nutrition and wellness education, and making referrals to relevant programs and services. CSFP food packages do not provide a complete diet, but are good sources of key nutrients typically lacking in the diets of seniors. Participants are offered nutritious foods including low sodium canned vegetables, low fat dairy products, whole grain cereals and pasta and lean meats, poultry, fish and dry beans.

Through CSFP, USDA distributes administrative funds and food to State Agencies. The DC CSFP State Agency (SA), housed in the Community Health Administration at DC Health, is committed to providing evidence and practice based nutrition and wellness education to participants in the Commodity Supplemental Food Program. Educational materials used in the DC CSFP align with guidance provided by the Dietary Guidelines for Americans, the Physical Activity Guidelines for Americans, MyPlate. DC CSFP nutrition education activities include additional materials reviewed by SNAP-Ed.

DC CSFP is a cornerstone senior nutrition program in the District reaching more than 5,400 residents. This Nutrition Education Plan provides a high level overview of District nutrition and wellness education priorities. For more detailed information about the DC CSFP, please refer to the 2020 DC CSFP State Plan.

Specifically, the goal of the plan is to provide CSFP nutrition education providers with guidance and standards to ensure that only evidence and practice based information is shared with seniors. Nutrition education priorities for the DC CSFP include improving senior self-efficacy around health and wellness. Specifically:

Priorities

1. Empowering seniors with knowledge, skills, and confidence to manage their health and wellness to positively impact long term health andwellness

2. Encourage full utilization of the food package by providing seniors with the positive impact USDA Foods play in long term health andwellness.

Nutrition Education at CSFP Sites

Nutrition education will be offered using a variety of formats including, but not limited to one on one meetings, group sessions, educational handouts placed directly in the monthly food box, food and nutrition materials posted on the DC GetFresh micropage, and text messaging. DC CSFP data tells us that a greater number of DC seniors access the internet via computer or smart phone than previously thought. Seniors are using cellphones to send and receive messages (email and text) and DC CSFP will collaborate with other DC Health nutrition programs that are successfully using text messaging and other strategies to provide health and wellness information.

Food Package Menu
The CSFP Food Package is an educational tool in and of itself and will guide nutrition education activities. As noted, food packages provided in the monthly distribution include wholesome, nutritious, and culturally appropriate foods including low sodium canned vegetables, low fat dairy products, whole grain cereals and pasta. The package also includes lean meats, poultry, fish and dry beans.
The State Agency and the Local Agency are working to provide CSFP participants new package guidelines prior to November 1, 2019.

Partnerships
In order to effectively implement the NE plan, DC CSFP will continue to rely cross sector partnerships through the District. On site volunteers, distribution site nutritionists, Snap-Ed nutrition educators continue to be essential to the success of this component of CSFP.

Implementation
Implementation of the plan will begin in early Fiscal Year 2020.

Evaluation
The Nutrition Education Plan will be evaluated through the collection of feedback (biannually, monthly, etc.) and post lesson/activity surveys. This feedback will focus on evaluating main components of the nutrition education materials and activities such as, handout relevance, recipe utilization, and use of CSFPs in menu planning.

Monthly Nutrition Education Calendar
The monthly calendar of education topics is shared below and includes handouts, recipes, and website links for the educator to use as a guide.

Summary
The DC CSFP Nutrition Education Plan is a work in progress and will continue to evolve. SNAP-Ed is a key partner at DC Health involved with the development of the plan. Updates to the plan will be sent to USDA as they are made.
