Based on record review and interview, the HCA failed to ensure a patient's POC was approved and signed by a physician within thirty (30) days of the start of care, for one (1) of ten (10) patients in the sample. (Patient # 2)

The finding includes:

On January 6, 2014, at approximately 10:20 a.m., a review of Patient #2's record revealed a POC with a certification period from October 16, 2013, through December 14, 2013. The POC failed to evidence it was approved and signed by a physician.

During an interview with the receptionist on January 6, 2014, at approximately 10:30 a.m., the receptionist indicated that the POC was faxed to the physician several times for approval and signature but the physician left the practice without approving and signing the POC.
